To Whom It May Concern,

Aquitaine Traduction was commissioned to complete the translation of our Level 3 Award in Wines and Spirits into French. The project consisted of a textbook of approximately 160,000 words and supporting materials: Study Guide, 14 PowerPoint presentations and the Course Specification.

The linguistic challenges of the translation were considerable as many of the concepts are difficult to define in any language and in addition we were working to a tight publishing deadline.

Aquitaine Traduction conducted the translation in an extremely professional manner, demonstrating a tenacious emphasis on quality and minute attention to detail. The content was thoroughly researched and errors in the original text were brought to our attention, enabling us to improve the quality of our materials across the board. The deadline was met, and all my communication received a prompt response.

I would have no hesitation in commissioning Aquitaine Traduction for future projects.

If more detailed information is required, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Yours Faithfully,

Ruth Tank
